Pleasanton's neighborhood newcomer

PLEASANTON — Ken Gooch and John Caroline will break ground this week for construction of an office building at 608 Main St.

The building, located next to Kolln Hardware, will house the Gooch Construction Co. and other businesses. Gooch is a partner in the office building with John Caroline of the Caroline - Knutson Building Co.

Designer of the new structure is Dave Stevens. Gooch and Caroline are Bay Area builders and have been specializing in custom-built homes from Fremont to Danville. The main floor of the two-story building will be leased out to retail merchants with offices on the second floor. The shops will be related to the building trade with such tenants as decorators. Total floor area for both stories is 3,400 square feet.

Target date for completion is July. The builders hope to have it ready for a dedication at Bicentennial birthday time, according to Stevens.

"We want to let Pleasanton know we are here as a builder," said Stevens. "We're here to stay. When we set up a building, we do it first class."

Four charged in murder at jail

Four suspects were charged yesterday in Livermore Municipal Court in the murder of Santa Rita Rehabilitation Center prisoner Michael McDaniel April 21.

Judge Al Lewis set bail at $100,000 on each of the suspects and all are in custody at Santa Rita.

The suspects are Eddie Weatherby, 26, Allen Tucker, 27, Enrique (Rickey) Wyatt, 23, and Stephen Browning, 30.

The suspects shared a Santa Rita barracks with McDaniel, who also used the alias Lester Nelson. McDaniel was found dead from stab wounds and bludgeon marks. The bludgeon marks were believed caused by an eight-pound mop wringer.

Weatherby came to Santa Rita April 8 charged with armed robbery and had an earlier conviction on armed robbery. He was an unsentenced prisoner on the original charge at the time. He lives in Oakland, as do the other three suspects.

Tucker also was received at Santa Rita April 8 and was charged with armed robbery. He has two prior convictions and also was an unsentenced prisoner.

Wyatt came to Santa Rita Feb. 25 charged with armed robbery, grand theft and had one prior grand theft conviction. He was awaiting sentencing.

Browning came from arrest by Oakland Police Department Feb. 26 charged with traffic violations, parole violation, armed robbery, grand theft, and possession of a concealed weapon. He had four prior convictions for armed robbery.

Investigation and examination of physical evidence in the case is continuing.

McDaniel was convicted of armed robbery and returned to the jail

March 31 to await sentence. An Oakland court convened a few days before his death to consider his sentencing, but continued his case to the following week.

McDaniel, 27, had returned from the Oakland court at 2 p.m. April 21 and his body was found in the shower area of barracks number three at 4:30 p.m.

Speculation that racial tensions might have figured in McDaniel's murder was discounted by news of the arrests. The suspects, like the victim, are black.

The possibility of gang war also was ruled out by Santa Rita Chief Howard Garrigan who said the relatively short (42-day average) stay for an inmate precludes gangs from forming.

Council's budget hearing

PLEASANTON — The city council will conduct a public hearing on the proposed 1976-77 preliminary budget at 8 p.m. today in the city council chambers, 30 W. Angela St.

The council will conduct a review of the 1976-77 capital improvement plan prior to the public hearing, beginning at 7 p.m.

Capital improvement projects totaling $795,496 are proposed by City Manager Bill Edgar. They include street projects, $415,400; water projects, $179,450; park projects, $97,500; sewer projects, $50,000; drainage projects, $33,146; and corporation yard, $20,000.

The vacant space next to Kolln Hardware will be filled with a neo-Elizabethan structure designed by Dave Stevens of Architectural Consultants. The building has been approved by the city and is a joint venture of Ken Gooch Construction and John Caroline, who is also a partner of the Caroline - Knutson Building Co. The firm is now leasing offices and mall shops in the building.

Landers' successor today

Naming of a principal to succeed Donald Landers at Foothill High School is the subject of a press conference scheduled for this afternoon by the Amador Valley Joint High School District.

Landers previously asked to be relieved of his duties, noting that he had been a high school principal for more than two decades. He requested that he be reassigned to another administrative position in the district.

Landers is completing his second year at Foothill and previously served as principal at Dublin High School. The Foothill position is the lone remaining administrative slot to be filled for 1976-77.

Tonight, the Amador Valley Joint High School District board will convene at the District Educational Center in Pleasanton for their regular monthly meeting. Meetings start at 8 p.m.

Among the primary items on the lengthy agenda are considering an agreement for placing a mobile home on a site at Amador Valley High (for security purposes), consideration and adoption of a resolution concerning lighting and rigging for the Amador auditorium.

Planning appointment generates some heat

PLEASANTON — Local advertising executive Bill Jamieson was named to the Planning Commission by a 4-1 City Council vote last night. He will succeed Howard Gerrigan, who retires this month.

Councilman Frank Brandes voted against Jamieson's appointment. Brandes said that Jamieson in an earlier interview with the council answered his questions about growth with a slant toward uncontrolled growth.

Brandes said that when he asked Jamieson whether he was satisfied with the 48,700 population limit set by the Environmental Protection Agency for 1996, Jamieson allegedly replied that if the city were to have the facilities for more growth it should build to the limit.

"I don't agree with that attitude and I don't think a majority of the community agrees," said Brandes. "Also Jamieson did apply for the Park and Recreation Commission, too, saying he had a stronger desire for that board."

Councilwoman Joyce LeClaire, who nominated Jamieson said she attended the same interviews, but got a much different impression of Jamieson's position on growth.

Jamieson was a leader of Citizens Against Garbage Environment, which fought Kaiser Sand and Gravel Co.'s plan to put garbage in its gravel pits.

This group was the most significant environmental group ever formed in the valley, and Jamieson's leadership shows his feelings for the environment, said LeClaire.

She called Brandes' statements, "an incredible indictment." She continued, "I heard a complete and sincere interest in the city not only verbally, but on his written record," a reference to Jamieson's resume of community involvement during 19 years residence in the valley.

"I don't believe Jamieson advocates unlimited growth," said LeClaire. "I'm sure he supports the two percent growth rate and even if he didn't, he can't do anything to change it," she said.

Petition asks church to stay put

PLEASANTON — A petition with more than 100 names will ask the planning commission tomorrow night to refuse Presbyterian Community Church a permit to move its historic old church from Second and Neal Streets to Mirador Drive.

The petition is being circulated by members of the church who have opposed the move within their own congregation and now feel they must bring the rest of the community into the controversy.

At stake, in the words of one petitioner who did not want to be named, is the historic value of the site at Second and Neal Streets.

"If people can protest a convenience store coming into a neighborhood, we should also be able to protest removal of a building. Part of the old community will be destroyed by removing the church," said the opposed petitioner.

The planning commissioner will hear the church's application for the use permit at 8 p.m. for tomorrow in the city council chambers. The commission's design review board will look at the proposed design at 7:15 p.m.

Zone 7 Board

Kinney says he'll defend property

This is the second in a series of articles on eight candidates for the Zone 7, Alameda County Flood Control and Water Conservation District, Board of Directors.

Former Pleasanton Mayor Ed Kinney says his bid for election to the zone board on June 8 is a "defensive maneuver, a matter of philosophy."

He aspires to the seat to "keep alive the philosophy of private property rights."

"There is a lot of land owned by private property owners who must look to the zone for water services," Kinney said.

He fears that candidates Archer Futch and Don Miller, if elected, will employ the zone board as "one more means to use a utility to prevent private property owners from realizing their rights."

"This is the same issue that got me on the Pleasanton City Council," Kinney said. "I wanted to represent a broader line of thinking for the city of Pleasanton."

There may be a place for the "dissident voices" of Futch and

Miller, Kinney allowed, "but not a majority voice."

Though an avowed champion of the rights of property owners, Kinney said it was "hogwash" to suppose his election would lead to a developer-oriented take-over of the zone board. "I'm not in the pocket of the developers," he said. "I'm in the pocket of people who want improved services in the valley."

And the zone's biggest thrust, Kinney said, should be to improve the quality of water it delivers.

Kinney favors expanding the zone's Del Valle Water Treatment Plant. The cost should be borne by both water users and water connection fees. The zone should provide better water, Kinney argued, but those who want it should pay for it.

The zone's 20 per cent increase in water rates does not disturb him. "Operating costs have increased," Kinney said, "and it's an unfortunate fact of life. But I don't think the zone board at any time misled the people about the cost of Project II water."

Kinney favors limiting the zone's powers to water management, reserving sewer powers to the municipalities. "The zone should back off from sewerage," he said, "but it might monitor sewage treatment if the agencies allowed it to."

Cities should make their own decisions about development in their adjacent areas, he said. But Kinney said Las Positas New Town, a planned residential community for 40,000 people north of Livermore city limits, did not fall within Livermore's jurisdiction. And Kinney added that if such a development were to satisfy the requirements of the Alameda County Board of Supervisors, the Regional Water Quality Control Board, air pollution standards, and leave enough water to fulfill the zone's current contracts, then it would be the zone's responsibility to supply New Town with water.

But he said he doubted there would be enough water to supply a development of that size.

Kinney said the valley should not build the proposed effluent disposal pipeline, sometimes known as the "super sewer."

"I see developing the chance to improve technologically our sewage treatment systems," Kinney said. He added that the valley could potentially be wasting a great deal of water.

"I'm not really that concerned over the size of the sewer because I think there are other ways to handle the problem," Kinney said. "Perhaps the non-growthers are really encouraging new developments in sewage treatment," Kinney quipped.

He termed "hypocritical" the proposal to build a smaller pipeline and store excess effluent in surge ponds until it can be sent down the pipe. "It's O.K. for Futch and Miller to talk about surge ponds, but the ponds will be located in Pleasanton. There's a bit of hypocrisy there," he said.

And he noted that surge ponds could have an effect on the quality of the underground water basin, an area of the zone's responsibility.

And because of that Zone 7, he said, could become involved in monitoring the Livermore-Amador Valley Wastewater Management Agency's pipeline project.

"LAVWMA will have completed its mission once the pipeline bonds pass or fail," Kinney said. "I know Pleasanton doesn't want to spend too much time in LAVWMA after the pipeline gets set up. Zone 7 could eventually take over the operation of LAVWMA."

But he added that if LAVWMA wanted to stay in business to "pump the stuff out of the valley, Zone 7 should cooperate in any way."

Kinney discounts speculation that he has formed a campaign slate with candidates Gib Marguth and Tom Schweser. "I disavow ticket out and out," Kinney said. "Forming a ticket implies a block vote in the future, and it keeps you from appealing to a broad range of electorate philosophies," he said.

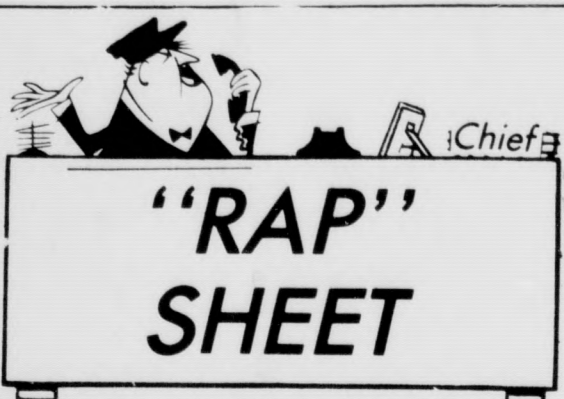

"But I respect both men for their open-mindedness, which I don't see in Futch and Miller," Kinney said. "In that sense it could be looked at as a fixed versus non-fixed ticket. I'm pliable and I can be convinced."

Two men held on suspicion of drug possession

LIVERMORE — Two Livermore brothers were arrested Saturday night for suspicion of possessing quantities of suspected amphetamines and PCP, police said yesterday.

Roy Allan Coppedge, 24, of 251 North 1 St., and his brother, Barlow Wayne Coppedge, 20, of 1842 Railroad Avenue, were booked on suspicion of possession of a controlled substance (drugs other than alcohol and marijuana).

Police said the two men were detained for a routine traffic stop at Chestnut and North Livermore Avenue shortly before midnight Saturday.

Police noticed the odor of a burning substance and asked for and received consent to search the car. Police found one baggie of suspected PCP, several suspected tablets of amphetamines, a baggie of suspected amphetamine powder, a cigarette containing alleged PCP, and assorted narcotics paraphernalia.

Both men were booked into Livermore city jail on suspicion of possessing controlled substances.

Man arrested, held for assault with a deadly weapon
LIVERMORE — A 30-year-old knife-wielding Livermore man was arrested Friday after he allegedly threatened to kill the woman with whom he was living, police reported yesterday.

Harvey Dale Hulsey, 30, of 661 South H. St. was formally charged yesterday by the district attorney's office with assault with a deadly weapon, possessing a deadly weapon, and battery.

Police said Hulsey came home about 1 p.m. Friday looking for his gun. After failing to find it, Hulsey allegedly hit Mary Elizabeth Flowers, 21, and threatened to kill her with a switchblade knife unless she found the weapon for him.

Hulsey left the residence and Flowers phoned police. Hulsey was arrested a short time later at Fifth and South H Streets.

Flowers sustained a one-inch cut on her lip, swollen eyes and mouth, and facial bruises. Police recovered a switchblade knife and placed it into evidence.

Victim hospitalized after fight

PLEASANTON — A man attempting to intervene between two men fighting over a woman received a fractured jaw for his troubles, a Sheriff's department spokesman said yesterday.

Don Eaton of San Jose sat down next to a girl at a picnic table Sunday afternoon and began talking to her when Joe Heines of Fremont rode up on his motorcycle and told her to get aboard. When the girl hesitated, Eaton replied that he could supply her with transportation, and that Heines could depart.

A shouting match ensued, after which the two men struggled and Eaton found himself on the ground. James Iddings of Sunnyvale then came along and apparently tried to get between the two men, when Heines allegedly hit Iddings, and then stomped on him while he lay on the ground.

A citizen informed police of a man lying unconscious under a tree. Iddings was taken to Valley Memorial Hospital, and is reported in good condition with a fractured jaw.

An investigation into the incident is continuing.

Airport plan summary due

LIVERMORE — A summary report on the planning commission review of the Airport Master Plan will be presented to the noise abatement committee when the noise committee meets Thursday starting at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Court Chambers, 39 S. Livermore Ave.

The noise committee took issue with some of the noise levels rated acceptable and some of the methods of noise abatement outlined in the Airport Master Plan and registered its protests with the planning commission.

Some of the commission members indicated they were not fully satisfied with the noise considerations and cash flow projections contained in the document but recommended to the city council that action be initiated to adopt the Master Plan as part of the city's General Plan.

That process would necessitate a round of public hearings at both the commission and council levels.

The council has not yet considered the commission recommendation, which was made last week.

Other reports scheduled to be presented at the noise committee meeting Thursday night are on noise measurements taken for informational purposes only at the Holiday Inn and noise measurements taken at Codioli Ford at the request of the council after hearing neighbors' complaints of a loudspeaker system at the automobile dealer.

A neighbor complaint of noise caused by dogs on East Avenue also will be discussed.

Schlies suit is under advisement now

tick took the Schlies suit under advisement yesterday after hearing attorneys' arguments.

Attorneys Alan Grossman and Steve Foland argued that Dr. Edward Schlies is entitled to sewer connections for his medical building on Santa Rita Road. The attorneys contend that the city clearly obligated itself to deliver sewer connections to the Schlies property, which has been on a holding tank since it was opened.

They contended that a letter from former Mayor Ed Kinney promised them part of 18 connections allowed for holding tanks by the Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board. They also stated that Schlies spent money on construction of a sewer lateral, expecting a hookup.

City attorneys Ken Scheidig and Harvey Levine responded that Kinney's letter was not an official commitment of the city, that the Schlies property was in the wrong area and could not be delivered connections, and that Schlies had to buy a sewer lateral anyway and it did not mean he was damaged in that way.

Raymond on finances

Valerie Raymond, candidate for the Alameda County Supervisor, First District, issued a press release yesterday charging the Board of Supervisors with questionable county financing.

"Without going to the voters for approval, the county is planning to spend $120 million over the next five years for new buildings — roughly $400 for every family in Alameda County," Raymond said. "Apparently the Supervisors don't think that the voters would approve these projects in a bond election, so they have raised property taxes to unnecessary levels and have been accumulating the surplus money."

In the last two years, she said, "while the citizens of Alameda County were paying the highest property tax rate in the state, the County has appropriated $36 million for building projects while spending only $2 million. At the same time they have been publicly stating that they are short of funds for services to county residents."

Raymond said the board should "carefully evaluate the absolute necessity of each proposed project and then go to the voters for approval of a pared-down list."

Raymond added that she believed voters would support "projects that can be strongly justified."

Alves on pipeline vote

Rob Alves, candidate for Alameda County Supervisor, First District, said the size of the proposed effluent disposal pipeline should be decided by the voters.

The Livermore-Amador Valley Wastewater Management Agency has proposed building a pipeline to transport the valley's effluent out of the valley for eventual discharge into San Francisco Bay. LAVWMA officials have held a running debate with the supervisors on how big the pipeline should be.

"Elected officials on both sides pretend to know what the people want regarding the Super Sewer, but it is time to let the people speak for themselves," Alves said.

in a press release issued last week.

"We are going to the ballot in November on this issue and the people, not the politicians, should be allowed the right to choose whether or not they want the 27-inch or 33-inch pipeline," he said.

"It's time for the voters to make the decision on such important matters affecting future growth, planning, and money expended," Alves declared.

In letters sent to LAVWMA and the Board of Supervisors, Alves wrote, "Unlike other candidates who have expressed a preference for one or the other, I would encourage you to put two propositions on the ballot."

The first proposal, he said, would be the approval of the basic 27-inch pipeline. The second would be the added expenditure to build the larger pipeline.

"If they both pass," Alves wrote, "the larger would be built. If only the first passed the smaller would be built and the first must pass for the second to go into effect if passed."

Alves said placing the second issue on the ballot would in no way jeopardize the first, and would give the public the chance to "voice its desires."

Nozzles certified

The state Division of Measurement Standards has certified five types of gasoline nozzles for the vapor recovery program.

Since Jan. 1 the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District has required gas stations to use the nozzles when dispensing gas. About half of the stations have the nozzles and the other half have been given until June 3.

The June 3 variances were given because the Division of Measurement Standards would not approve the original nozzles. Gasoline could be returned to storage tanks after being metered.

Thompson asked to leave PHA Acts confirmed

PLEASANTON — The city council has asked William Thompson to resign as a commissioner from the housing authority because he lives outside the city.

City Attorney Ken Scheidig told The Times that a state law passed last year states that housing authority commissioners must be "resident electors" of the boards on which they serve. That means in Pleasanton's case that commissioners must live within the city limits, said Scheidig.

Thompson was unavailable for comment, but he did discuss the matter with The Times more than a month ago when Councilwoman Joyce LeClaire first brought up the issue.

Thompson said at that time he discussed the ramifications of the new law with other housing commissioners and in their opinion they felt he should remain on the board.

The city council appointed Cecelia Governor of Kottinger Place and Beverly Montgomery, a Komandorski Village resident, to the board recently, expanding it from five to seven members. Although Montgomery lives outside the city limits, she is eligible for the board because she is a Komandorski Village resident.

The same new law which allegedly disbars Thompson from membership on the board stated that housing authorities must include tenants on their ruling boards.

Cut roses last longer if properly prepared

The all-america rose selection handbook offers the following tips on preparing your roses for display in an arrangement.

When cutting rose blooms, use a sharp pair of shears or a knife, making the cut on the diagonal, leave at least two well-developed leaves on the branch between the cut on the point where the branch joins the cane.

If cutting in the evening, take half-opened buds; in early morning, use partly opened flowers.

Put in water immediately, preferably warm water about 100 degrees in temperature, right up to the flower itself, when the water cools, keep in a cool place for several hours.

Recut stems to the desired length before arranging them. Flowers conditioned in this way will easily outlast those used immediately after cutting. To produce large and perfect showroses, remove all flower buds except the central, or terminal bud on each stem while they are still very small.

Look Younger For Springtime

Spring is the season when your spirits lift as you look forward to pleasant weather after a long, dreary winter. But springtime, with its sudden wind gusts and rapid changes of temperature can be hard on your skin, drying it so you can look older than you'd like. You can look older than necessary as early as your twenties, you know. Nature's own supply of moisture and oil has begun to slow down by then, so your skin becomes dryer and its radiant youthful appearance may start to slip away.

The past winter probably hasn't helped either. Look what you've put your skin through! You've gone between icy outdoor weather and drying indoor heat over and over again. That's like taking your face through all the climates of the world day after day. An honest look in your mirror will show you what winter has done to your skin.

Happily, you can begin to look your youngest for springtime almost before the first crocuses bloom. Join the younger-looking women of all ages from many parts of the world who share the secret of a remarkable beauty fluid that helps every woman look her youngest.

This unique beauty fluid, discovered by beauty connoisseurs, is known in the United States as Oil of Olay beauty lotion. The remarkable fluid works with nature in a mysterious way to ease away skin dryness so you can look just as young as you can.

Oil of Olay acts like your own natural moisture to work on dryness. Pure moisture and tropical oils penetrate your skin's surface deeply and astonishingly quickly, with never a greasy afterfeel. You'll see your skin grow softer and smoother almost the moment you soothe on the skin-loving liquid.

Oil of Olay, faithfully every morning, under makeup or to give your skin a moist environment. Again, faithfully, every night.

You'll find Oil of Olay at your drugstore. You may get the beautiful feeling that your skin is living in an ideal moist, misty eternal spring.

Spring Beauty Secret

As the weather improves, you'll be more on the go. Be sure that Oil of Olay® travels with you everywhere, in your purse or suitcase.

Granada High choir scrapbook:

A silver medal, new friends at Mexican festival

The following account of the Granada High A Cappella Choir trip to Mexico was written by choir member Karen Sanderson:

It was the best eight days of my life. The trip had a great start when we had Easter vacation the week before. We had time for excitement and worries without worrying about schoolwork. Then came the day we left and the days that followed went something like this:

MONDAY: In the wee hours of the morning (6 o'clock) we arrived at Granada to board the bus for the S.F. Airport. Everyone was excited. We painted signs for the bus; we kissed family and friends goodbye, but the best was yet to come.

The plane trip was a first for some, so it took awhile for things to relax. When they did, the cameras were out, songs were practiced (with difficulty) and general fun bedlam broke out.

Nothing out of hand, of course.

Then we arrived in Mexico City. It was noticeably different from the airport we left from. All of a sudden it was warm and overcast and all the signs were in a foreign language.

We were immediately bused off to Oaxtepec (a two-hour drive) to spend the night.

Getting ready for judging, choir members assemble behind Oaxtepec Theatre.

TUESDAY: In the morning a few of us set out on our own to explore Oaxtepec Vacational Center. It was a beautiful resort area with two levels, 20 swimming pools and nice landscaping.

It was very hot at all times, but we loved it. It made the pools more enjoyable.

We had a morning rehearsal at the Oaxtepec Theatre, then the afternoon for swimming. In the evening we went to the small town of Cuantla for a concert at a local theater.

We had a very large and receptive audience. We were told they were receptive because they are often promised concerts and they don't often go through.

WEDNESDAY: We were given the morning free for relaxing and swimming because this would be the day we were adjudicated.

We sang our best for the judges, loving every minute of performing. It wasn't important to us then what rating we got; we were happy with our own performance.

That evening was the Awards Ceremony. It was perfect. We ate the only good food we'd had all week; we were entertained by a mariachi band and a ballet folklorico.

When the awards were given out and we discovered we were one of the three top winners, the waterworks started flowing. We were the noisiest group there. Hugs, kisses, tears abounded for an hour.

Afterwards we danced and had a great time. Everyone realized how much love we had in our group and how close we'd gotten through all the hard times.

THURSDAY: We left in the morning for Taxco, the silver mining town. The two-hour bus ride was horrible and we had a few queasy stomachs but it didn't prevent us from sightseeing. Taxco is a small town, with a lot of street merchants and shops and cobblestone streets.

It was hot and tiring, but nothing would stop us. In the afternoon we left Taxco for another two-hour ride that was murder. Most everyone was hot, exhausted and sick. Still, we stopped in the village of Tepotzlan for a concert at the Cathedral.

I didn't sing because I was very sick, but I got to hear the choir from the audience's point of view. I was teary-eyed throughout. The excitement, the rehearsals and friendship came through every note they sang. It was beautiful.

I missed the evening concert at Oaxtepec but it was a success, with the audience asking for an encore.

FRIDAY: We left for Mexico City, and we weren't sure that we wanted to. Oaxtepec was beautiful and we had heard some dubious things about Mexico City.

Anyway, we arrived at the hotel, which was very nice, then went to sing for a high school.

What an experience! The kids were very appreciative and they gave us soft drinks, donuts and handmade mugs for everyone. They gave the school a beautiful handmade vase.

Afterwards, we had a volleyball game, Mexicans vs. Americans. They won.

We made some friends and many pen pals. We left the school with the feeling that we had really accomplished something. We learned about kids our age in a foreign country, and they impressed us with their openness and friendliness.

SATURDAY: We went across the city to the Museum of Anthropology. We learned how to handle the bus system: hold your breath in and squeeze.

After we went through the museum, we had the afternoon free for relaxation.

In the evening we had another successful concert at an art gallery. Through some other people the choir acquired a Mexican friend, Tony de la Fuentes. We spent our spare time teaching him English while he taught us Spanish.

SUNDAY: In the morning we sang at high Mass at the Cathedral of Mexico. A few of us then went shopping at the famous San Juan Market. It's an indoor marketplace with hundreds of stores where you can bargain and deal to your heart's delight.

In the afternoon we went to the Pyramids of the Sun and Moon, one of the seven wonders of the world. We gave an impromptu concert for some of the other tourists, in the rain.

Sunday night our escort, Igor, took about 16 people, including Tony de la Fuentes, to a ritzy hotel called the Fiesta Palace for dancing.

The room was on one of the top floors with a skyline view of the city with an excellent band. The band dedicated the evening to the Californians and played American hit songs.

It was a perfect way to end a fantastic trip. We were dancing on air.

MONDAY: We left for home.

Everyone was quiet and tired. We were excited about going home but we hated to leave.

When we got home it was a letdown, because everyone knew we had a good time, but no one could understand or imagine what an experience this was for us. The memories, love, even the bad times will be treasured by us forever.

For Tuesday, May 11, 1976

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
Avoid a companion with a knack for creating problems at the smallest provocation. She could involve you in something nasty today.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
Be careful today, even with familiar tasks. In your haste you could do something to cause you a problem.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
You could have remorse later today if you spend impulsively. Be sure what you purchase is something you really need or want.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
Although you may feel it's for their own good, don't lean too heavily on those in your charge today. Stern tactics will produce undesirable effects.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
Today someone with ulterior motives may try to pressure you into doing something you know you shouldn't. Don't let her get to you.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
Be careful today in dealing with friends where money is an issue. There could be a serious misunderstanding if it's not handled properly.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
Goals important to you today will not be handed to you on a silver platter. They'll have to be earned the hard way.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)
You'll be your own worst enemy today if you do something out of spite. Don't let a grudge gain the upper hand.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)
Avoid gatherings where there's likely to be someone there you're not too fond of. This person could really get under your skin today.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
In situations where partners or associates are involved, don't try to act without their full consent.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)
You could be difficult to work for today, as you may ask others to do things you would never think of doing yourself.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)
Look gift horses in the mouth today, especially in commercial negotiations. There may be some burrs tucked beneath the saddle.

If you can keep from looking at the East and West hands you should be able to visualize South's problem with today's hand.

He wins the diamond lead with his ace and sees one sure loser each in trumps, spades and diamonds. Is there a potential fourth loser anywhere?

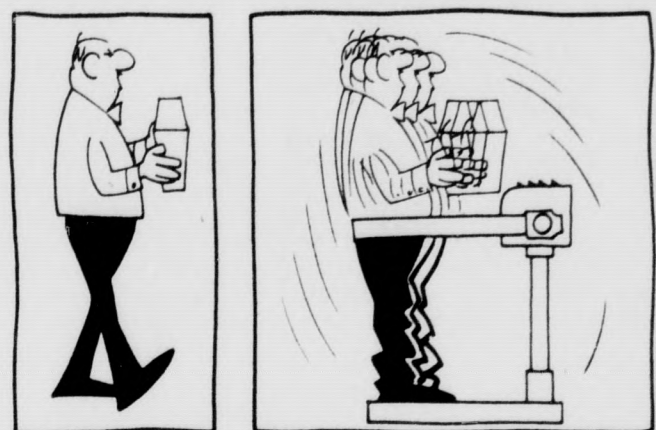

There may be a second loser in trumps. Can South do anything to reduce the chance of the second loser?

If trumps are 2-2 there is no problem. If there is a
